THE CREW I BRING

Singapore: regular boom operator and utility, crewed to the languages of the show.
Regional: Adyt Santoso (boom) and Reza Feryanto (utility), Jakarta and Bali, both through four months of Lord of the Flies.

SINGAPORE AND SOUTHEAST ASIA

International standard, already on the ground

Twenty years of production sound, the last seven based in Singapore. I work the same way for a US or UK network series as for a Mandarin-language docudrama: clean, isolated, correctly labelled tracks that post can use, with real rapport with the local crew from Langkawi to Batam.

WORKING IN MULTIPLE LANGUAGES

Dialogue recorded in Mandarin, Malay, Bahasa Indonesia, Cantonese and Tamil, for Mediacorp, Netflix and CNA. My boom operator and utility are chosen for the languages of the show, so someone on the sound team always understands the dialogue as it is spoken.

"Ande was brilliantly diligent on our adaptation of Lord of the Flies. He was meticulous with radio miking and provided a multitude of rainforest wild tracks recorded on location."
MARC MUNDEN, DIRECTOR · UNITED KINGDOM

"A complicated multi-cam and PTZ setup with celebrity talent in a very challenging location, and Ande always found a way to make things work, at one point routing audio across the setup using the fibre optic line the PTZ team had laid underwater for camera."
JOSH PATIL, EXECUTIVE PRODUCER, BALIPROD FILMS · BETA SQUAD, BALI

"Working with Ande on Inside Crime Scene was an absolute pleasure. Passion, professionalism and positivity. Ande rocks!"
EMMA NEUBRONNER, EXECUTIVE PRODUCER · SINGAPORE
